

drag or dredge, or any similar instrument, in the waters of the Great Annapessex river, in said county and State, east of a straight line from Tenth's Point on the south side of said river, to Porpoise Point on the north side of said river; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the catching of crabs.

1888, ch. 95.

192. Any person violating any of the provisions of the preceding section shall be fined in a sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offence, and shall stand committed to the county jail until such fine and costs shall be fully paid and satisfied.

Ibid.

193. On information under oath, of any violation of the provisions of section 191, to any justice of the peace for Somerset county, the said justice shall forthwith issue his warrant to the sheriff or any constable of the said county, requiring the officer to whom the said writ shall be directed to summon a posse comitatus, if necessary, and proceed at once to arrest the party alleged to have been engaged in violating any of the provisions of said section, and forthwith bring the offender before some justice of the peace for Somerset county for a hearing, and unless the party accused, or the State's attorney, shall claim a jury trial, it shall be the duty of the said justice of the peace to give the case an immediate hearing, or at the instance of the party charged with a violation of said section, shall appoint some early day within the next seven days thereafter, to hear the case, the party charged giving such good and sufficient bail as said justice shall require for his appearance at the trial; and on conviction of the offender, the said justice shall fine said person in a sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, and costs in each and every case, and shall have power to commit to the jail of said county such offender so convicted, until such fine so imposed, and costs, shall be fully paid and satisfied, subject to an appeal in all cases to the circuit court for Somerset county, from any judgment or conviction which may be rendered by said justice of the peace.
